Welcome Heather Collins

I was born and raised in California, but at the age of 34, I moved to Iowa. You might wonder how that happened—well, my husband took a wrong turn, and we ended up here! In reality, my husband has family in Allamakee County, and during our visits, we knew we wanted to retire in this area. We found a house and decided not to wait for retirement, so we made the move in 2008 while all our children were in high school. I've been happily married to John for 28 years, and we have four children and six grandchildren.

Since 2008, I have been working in healthcare. I began my career as a cook, transitioned to a CNA, and eventually became a nurse. I earned my LPN from NICC in 2013, followed by my RN in 2014. In 2015, I graduated from Upper Iowa University with my BSN and am currently pursuing my MBA in Healthcare Administration. Recently, I started teaching CNA classes during the summer, with students coming to Maple Crest Manor for their clinical experience.

Welcome Heather as our ADON/MDS for Maple Crest Manor.

Fayette After 5: A Recap on Maple Crest Campus History

November saw Maple Crest Campus hosting its first “Fayette After 5” event. The evening saw faces new and familiar stop by to say “Hello” and pay homage to the staple that has become Maple Crest Campus. With a rich history within the community, the beautiful campus located right off major Highway 150 is currently home to nearly 70 senior citizens at the various levels of care the facility provides. Whether that be assisted living, memory care assisted living, or nursing home care, the home boast the ability to serve our clientele in these various capacities, allowing them the opportunity to heal in times of need and return to the highest level of living achievable within the campus. This layout has deemed successful time and time again over the course of the nearly 50 years the business has existed. However, looking back at the history of Maple Crest is interesting to see just how it all began.

Maple Crest officially opened its doors in March of 1976. The building officially gained its business name after a “name choosing contest” was held and out of the 85 entries, Maple Crest Manor was dubbed by winner Mrs. David White. According to a Fayette Leader excerpt, the idea of it was born from several Fayette citizens discerning the need for a feasible local care facility. The home originally housed 60 rooms and was a standalone building. Several state-of-the-art features including “make-up air system” to keep constant fresh air in the building, a top of the line call light system, and an open concept layout allowed the facility to be noted as one of the most carefully planned facilities in the surrounding area at its construction. Although several changes and updates have been made over the years, the main structure and layout has remained consistent and has stood the test of time in its ability to cater to those that reside.

In 2004, the long time talk of expansion finally came to light with the addition and opening of The Maples Assisted living. Built just off of the north wing of the nursing home, the attached facility boasts 14 units and an open common area for lounging and dining and allows for members of the community to obtain assistance when living home alone proves to be too much. The assisted living was also a welcome addition for those who found themselves in need of skilled care at the nursing home after a fall or bout of illness from which they could recover, but did not find going home to be the best option. Multiple levels of care was now an option and was here to stay, allowing for the expansion to be successful and encourage more growth in the future.

In 2015, the final and newest addition to the campus finished construction and Maple Memory Lane Memory Care Assisted Living was born. An incredible need for care for those diagnosed with Alzheimer’s and Dementia lead to extensive research and execution of design from the carpets to the color schemes. The open floor concept allows for consistent monitoring of tenants while encouraging community and engagement. The building again houses 14 units and allows for tenants to flow between levels of care if deemed appropriate.

Overall, Maple Crest Campus can offer a wide range of care and is proud to be able to do so. In the nearly 50 years of service the campus has served roughly 2,000 residents and tenants and is excited to be able to continue to do just that in years to come. If you or a loved one may be able to benefit from the services Maple Crest is able to offer, please feel free to reach out! You can schedule a tour or time to talk to day with Brett Ingersoll, Business Manager or Angelique Lueder, Assisted Living Coordinator by calling 563.425.3336 or visiting us at maplecrestmanor.com.
